

Storyboard

By : Lillian Locascio

Phillip is a college student finding himself starting to eat fast food everyday and doesn't want to get into the habit.

He unfortunately has very limited options in his refrigerator though.

He decides to pull out all of the food that has been stored away and figure out what he can start making.

He pulls out his phone and starts to use an app to help him find recipes with what he knows he has.

He follows the recipe and finds a new dish that he loves.